

Vanuatu 60 billion energy storage project

Overview

The RESSET project is designed to increase solar generation and battery storage, with construction standards capable of withstanding climate risks. It is expected to reduce emissions, provide cleaner and more efficient energy use, and support economic growth by increasing energy. The Governments of New Zealand and Vanuatu have signed a Partnership Arrangement to advance the Renewable Energy Solar and Storage on Efate and Tanna (RESSET) Project, a major initiative aimed at strengthening Vanuatu's energy and climate resilience. 75 MWh), owned by the Government, and operated and maintained by UNELCO, the private sector utility und. A tropical paradise where coconut trees sway and massive energy storage tanks hum quietly in the background. Vanuatu, a Pacific island nation, faces unique energy challenges: dependence on imported diesel, vulnerability to climate change, and scattered island.
